GRAND VALLEY SITE STEWARD CODE OF CONDUCT

The chief objectives of the Grand Valley Site Steward Program (GVSS) are:

1. To promote the preservation of prehistoric, historic, archaeological, and paleontological sites on the public lands in and around the Grand Valley,
 2. To uphold all state and federal preservation laws,
 3. To support cultural resource preservation activities,
 4. To conduct our activities in accordance with the Grand Valley Site Steward training.

Site Stewards will adhere to the following rules:

1. Comply with Preservation Laws such as ARPA and NHPA, etc.
 2. Comply with all local, state, and federal antiquity laws and regulations.
 3. In any activity not regulated by law, stewards will be guided by the Code of Conduct, the GVSS training materials, and the procedures established by the BLM, Forest Service, or Park Service archaeologists.
 4. Carrying or using firearms while conducting site steward duties is strictly prohibited.
 5. GV Site Stewards are the representatives of the public land agencies that they represent, and will treat all users of public lands with respect and will respect private property adjoining public lands.
 6. All prehistoric and historic archaeological and paleontological data, including site location, site descriptions, vandalism reports, maps, and photographs will be held in confidence by GV Site Stewards. Public disclosure of site location and other critical information is prohibited under 36 CFR 296.18 or 43 CFR 7.18.
 7. Information about suspected violators of local, state, and federal laws will be disclosed only to the appropriate agency Law Enforcement Officers and archaeologists.
 8. Stewards will not collect artifacts or fossil specimens on public lands. Any artifacts or paleontological materials surrendered to Site Stewards will be surrendered to the agency archaeologists or paleontologist.
 9. Site Stewards will neither engage in nor encourage the sale of artifacts or paleontological materials.
 10. Site Stewards will not make news releases, give interviews or tours, or otherwise distribute information to the public concerning sites, collections, or steward activities without the approval of the agency they are representing.
 11. Stewards will not engage in activities or accept positions that represent conflicts of interest with the goals and aims of the GV Site Steward Program.

I agree to the above Code of Conduct.
